The main purpose of WordDocDiff is to compare your word/excel/pdf files side by side using the powerful diff engine. WordDocDiff is all you need to find those paragraphs, sentences, tables, or even images that have changed between two files. And best of all, you can even compare RTF and text files in addition to word/excel/pdf files. It provides much more functionality and features than the standard diff utility found in Windows. The best part of WordDocDiff is that it not only compares text, but it also compares the whole file. It preserves formatting such as bold, italic, fonts, colors, line endings, and more. It's also very fast because it processes the entire file for each comparison, not just a small portion as the standard diff utility. Finally, there is no large RAM requirement like the standard diff utility. The diff engine of WordDocDiff is powerful and powerful
