On a tiny, remote, remote island called Kirisutu, a tiny, remote, remote village of men, women and children live together in peace. Although the people of Kirisutu have no military, they must be prepared. The island is an airfield for the Kagura-class battlecruiser. Kagura alone carries more heavy armament than the entire Kirisutu village. When Kagura arrives in Kirisutu, the entire village is at risk. The residents of Kirisutu become riflemen, and must act quickly to knock the island from the skies and save themselves from the threat of Kagura. A remastered version of the 1993 game, Skirmish Line, available for all systems. Emu War 2 is still the same turn-based, strategy game that you know and love. Your tactical options have not changed, and no additional features are included. What's new? It's a world of ancient samurai. The enemy is the ferocious Emu Nation. The way of the samurai is yours. There are only two ways to win. You can defeat the Emu Nation in a war of wits or you can crush them in combat. You have the pride of the samurai in you. More than 30 years after the end of the first war, another battle has begun. The war between the Emu Nation and the Yamato Empire is over. The samurai have won. They seek to make one last push for victory and conquer the world. Thus, war has begun again. The Emu Nation awaits you. You know that feeling when you've got your copy of D&D 3.5, you've got that one spell you always use, and you're looking to swap it out for something a bit more potent? Not just for the fun of it, but because you've seen the way that encounter works in a given game and you need to give your players a tougher fight? Well, here's the game you're looking for. Now it has all the features of the classic Wizardry games, plus a lot of other cool stuff. But most importantly it will support all of your favorite D&D Encounters rules. No more "unofficial" rulesets or dying attempts to fit everything together. All of the rules are inside this game, and all of them work together as intended. If you've got ideas or suggestions, comment below or come on over to the forums. I'll be glad to help. NOTABLE QUOTES This add-on mod adds a "Dr. Cerebro" playable character to the game. She is quite an unusual choice for a rogue-like dungeon-crawler. In addition to standard melee, Dr. Cerebro can specialise in any of the Support skills (including mage, ranger and lockpicking). This player has a little bit more to show than the usual pickpocket (consisting of the fighting and lockpicking skills), and an excessive amount of missing teeth. Dr. Cerebro is almost always found begging and/or selling something, so she does not have any item drops. She can however be found selling potions and food at the Temple of Dagon Inn in Freeport. The guard in this mod can be found at several locations in Solside. During most of the day, the guard sits on a stool on the left side of the elevator and guards the first floor. After 8PM the guard changes to a different location and does not take the elevator. The guard can be a bit picky about who he stops, but the moment you give him your payment (coins or ingots), he will nod a cheerful "Hello!" and move on to the next suspicious character. If he is unsure about who you are, he will nod a frowny "Thank you!" and continue his patrol. Read the mod description for additional info. Dr. Cerebro is a treasure hunter, and he is crazy for it. Originally from Western Solitude, she moved to the Underside to set out on her own in the depths of the borderlands. Over the years she has picked up some skills, but her only real strength is her sense of smell. She enjoys finding the treasures of the Solside, but she also enjoys the challenge of the dangerous areas. Especially, so she doesn't end up like her father - dead. In addition to being a danger-hungry Treasure Hunter, Dr. Cerebro is often quite sick. Not only does it happen quite often, but the time it takes to cure itself is often a lot of time. You can talk to her when you first encounter her in Freeport to try and help her out, but don't expect anything in return. The more time she spends outside of Solside, the less effective her medicine is. This is a safe save mod. While exploring, monsters are still expected to attack, but none of them should hurt you. Aside from the extra herbs,

What's new in Rocket Island:

Godless feminist as I am, I am left awed by the statesmanship we have seen coming from this administration. The world now knows that the key players operating by fiat - Barack Obama, John McCain, Harry Reid, Mitch McConnell, Nancy Pelosi, Valerie Jarrett - are the biggest bunch of scoundrels ever gathered in one place. They can change the rules of the game every time they get to make up their own rules. For example, Sen. McConnell and his gang used a procedural gerrymander against Dems to steal a Senate seat from one of Michelle's best friends in the case of Virginia. Then they went into the House of Representatives and stole a seat from one of Michelle's best friends; and they're doing the same in the states by suppressing the vote of specifically targeted sectors of the electorate. Instead, they went into the administration and created a set of policy rules to help them reach the goal - more jobs for the Left Coast's donors. And it's working. And this amazing change in policy is being undertaken through a set of new laws that Steve reports on for Truth & Liberty. The recent tussle over NDAA left everyone wondering who is carrying the ball in this game. In the end, President Obama defied Harry Reid and Nancy Pelosi and the rest of his Senate gang in a full-frontal attack on the Constitution and summarily signed it into law. The FTAA also came to early completion, but they left us with the funny federalization of election law - like the foreign citizens' registration scheme. The signature policy of the left - the Constitution-busting "Affordable Care Act" that was written by Alinskyite activists and championed by MoveOn - also left us with its own set of federal regulations, which will spread to all 50 states. Here is Steve's write-up... You've got to read it all - and if you skip around you miss some great parts, like the new power-grab Fannie-Mae of the left and its plan to steer the next financial crisis into their hands. Get out of Washington and read the rules - read the papers - because America will have a lot of surprises in store for us over the next four years. There is something weirdly wonderful in history repeating itself. Today we learned the government shutdown is
